

Discord instruction

Basic info:

Discord is an easy-to-use tool. To get to a given server, just click the invitation link. To enter the server on the Discord application, click on it in the list on the left. Similarly, to enter a specific channel on the server, just click on its name. Voice channel also allows sharing the screen or camera.

Depending on the assigned role, the view and access to specific voice and text channels may be different.

At the bottom left, next to the username, there is an option to disable the microphone and sound, and user settings containing detailed account settings such as name, sound or notifications.

To recall a specific person or group, enter '@Name' in the text chat, for example '@Admin'.

Conference:

Participants:

- After joining the server, you will have access to all lectures and the possibility of asking questions to the speakers via voice or text Q&A chat.

Hackathon:

Participants:

-After joining the server, you will first need to verify your identity. After successful verification, the administrator will grant you access to your team's voice and text channel.

-In order to communicate with the mentor, call him with '@' in the team chat.
